

Collaborative Research: Resource of Open Problems for Education (ROPE)

Facilities, Equipment, and Other Resources

Dana C. Ernst

The Mathematics & Statistics Department at Northern Arizona University is located in the Adel Mathematics Building, complete with all necessary facilities. Most faculty have private offices. All faculty are provided with a Mac, Windows, or Linux machine and have access to networked servers/printers, a communications network and internet connections. Wireless computing is available on campus in each building. The Mathematics & Statistics Department provides routine administrative support to the PI. These resources are more than adequate to meet the needs of this proposed project.